World Television Day – Assembly Report

On 21st November, the students of Class 3E presented a vibrant and insightful assembly to celebrate World Television Day.

The programme explained the significance of the day and introduced the 2025 theme: “Television: Connecting the World.” Through engaging dialogues, the children highlighted how Discovery, National Geographic, news, sports, and entertainment channels expand knowledge, spark curiosity, and keep us connected to the world. The presentation also reminded everyone that television, when used wisely, can educate, inspire, and enrich young minds.

The students portrayed how TV brings learning into homes, turning curiosity into understanding. They also showed how responsible viewing habits help children make better choices. The assembly truly reflected television’s role as a bridge to information, creativity, and global awareness. The programme was both meaningful and enjoyable, beautifully capturing the true spirit of World Television Day.
