

NATIONAL PUBLIC SCHOOL, Kengeri, Bengaluru

Report on Karnataka Rajyotsava

“The red and yellow flag isn’t just a symbol — it’s the heartbeat of every proud Kannadiga.”

The vibrant celebration of Karnataka Rajyotsava was held on 7th November 2025 in the main auditorium of National Public School, Kengeri with great enthusiasm and patriotic fervor. The program commenced with a warm introduction, followed by the lighting of the lamp, symbolizing the dispelling of ignorance and the ushering in of knowledge.

The celebration began on an auspicious note with a melodious invocation song, invoking divine blessings. The welcome address extended heartfelt greetings to the dignitaries, teachers, and students, setting a cheerful tone for the event. The significance of the day was then highlighted, reminding everyone of the formation of Karnataka state and the cultural pride associated with it. This was followed by an impressive declamation on “Sun and Moon: A Reflection of Light and Knowledge” beautifully symbolized how the Sun represents enlightenment and the Moon mirrors wisdom, reminding us that true knowledge continues to shine even in darkness. The speaker eloquently conveyed that just as light guides our path, knowledge illuminates our minds and leads us toward truth and growth. Students presented a thought-provoking skit on the theme “Knowledge is More Important than Money,” highlighting that wealth may fade, but wisdom lasts a lifetime. Through engaging dialogues and powerful acting, they conveyed that true success is built on learning and understanding, not material riches.

The celebration also included a graceful dance performance, vividly portraying Karnataka’s folk culture and artistic spirit. Adding to the intellectual flavor of the event, the Roots of Knowledge segment highlighted Karnataka’s contributions to education, science, and literature. The Principal’s address motivated students to take pride in their roots while striving for excellence.

The program concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to everyone who contributed to the success of the celebration, followed by the soulful rendition of the Nada Geethe — the state anthem that echoed through the auditorium with pride and reverence.

The Karnataka Rajyotsava 2025 celebration was a true reflection of cultural unity, student participation, and respect for heritage, leaving everyone with renewed pride in being part of this glorious state.
