REPORT ON GRADE 7 A CLASS ASSEMBLY

“Television is not just a screen; it is a window that connects us to the world.”

The students of Grade 7A conducted an engaging and informative class assembly in the third week of November 2025, on the theme “World Television Day” highlighting the significance of television as a powerful medium of communication, education, and entertainment.

The program began with a brief introduction on the importance of World Television Day, emphasizing how television connects people across the globe, spreads awareness, and shapes perspectives through news, documentaries, and educational programs. To provide deeper insight into the theme, the students presented a captivating skit on the ‘Evolution of Television’. The skit showcased the journey of television—from bulky black-and-white sets to modern smart TVs—illustrating how technology has transformed the way we access information and entertainment. The students enacted each era with confidence, humor, and clarity, helping the audience understand the rapid growth of media over the decades. Adding a vibrant touch to the assembly, the students also organized an exciting and creative “Retro to Metro” Fashion Show, representing the transition in styles, trends, and entertainment showcased on television through different periods. This segment brought enthusiasm and joy to the audience as students confidently walked the ramp, displaying costumes from classic retro looks to contemporary metro styles. The activity also allowed students to express their creativity and talent, making the assembly both educational and entertaining.

The assembly concluded with a message highlighting the need for responsible and meaningful use of television, encouraging students to choose content wisely and use media as a tool for learning and personal growth.

“Television shapes culture, but it is we who shape what we watch.”
