Report on Grade 11 A and B Assembly

“A nation’s strength is not only in its freedom, but in the guardians who protect it—seen and unseen.”

The students of Grade 11 A and B presented an insightful and illuminating assembly series titled “Guardians of Glory”, in the second and third week of August, 2025. The motif revolved around India’s transformation—from captivity to freedom, from being shadowed to blending cultures and traditions—while expressing gratitude to the keepers of national security.

The assembly presentation began with a reflective podcast showcasing how Indians are guarded beyond their motherland. An innovative twist was brought through a friendly banter between countries that once ruled India, highlighting India’s individuality and cultural blends. The students were engaged with an interactive quiz on India’s great rulers from Kashmir to Kanyakumari, encouraging both recall and learning. The students also highlighted about inspiring women who stood tall during crises, such as IPS officer Rema Rajeshwari and reformer Chandraprabha Saikiani, emphasizing their invaluable contributions. They also focused on India’s growth and development in agriculture, defence, and industry. The grand finale was a stirring skit portraying the unsung heroes—RAW agents—depicting their journey from NCC cadets to protectors safeguarding the nation’s integrity beyond borders.

The assembly series successfully instilled pride, respect, and awareness among students, reminding all that, India’s glory is guarded not just by soldiers on the frontlines, but also by countless unsung heroes.
