The concluding programme was vision for India- students spoke about the significance in bringing about a positive change in the lifestyle and so forth contributing to the society.

The main idea of the entire activity was

- Linking the global and the local.
- Everyday actions matter for global climate change.
- Everyday decisions depend on lifestyle.
- A global view reduces the risk of regional conflicts.

Thus the entire class activity tried to make everyone think about their actions that will in turn contribute to the society.
