

REPORT ON “SPLASH – 2018” – SPECTRUM OF COLOURS
ART AND CRAFT EXHIBITION

Creativity is a trait that needs a platform to be showcased. Talent needs endless self – exploration. “Splash – 2018” spectrum of colours provided the opportunity for our students to leverage to the best of their abilities. The array of art and craft handiworks put on display truly inspired us.

The art and craft exhibition was a genuine attempt to showcase the art and the craft work under the able guidance of the Art and Craft teachers.

It was indeed a treat to the eyes. Of course the spectrum of vibrant colours splashed the glory of art in the campus.

We were astonished to see the beauty of the work of the young creative minds. It has really brought out the latent talent of our students. We could see the work of every student from Montessori to Grade-10. This exhibition clearly shows the dedication, hard work and involvement of the students and the art teachers.

We realised that most of the works on display could be done using easily available materials. This was definitely an eye-opener.

The Art and craft works displayed included origami, pot painting, lamp decoration, kirigami, pop-up cards, paper sculptures, quilling works, collage, glass paintings, pencil shading, designs, best out of waste, landscapes, bandini work, paper mobiles, silhouette painting on canvas, Worli Art, various CCA activity prize winning art works and so on. We could witness the hidden creative potential of our students. CCA flower arrangement competition was conducted on the same day and were displayed to add freshness, beauty, colour and life to the exhibition. Rangoli with coloured rice, flowers, coloured salt, kundan work, rangoli powder, free hand designs and carpet rangoli designs done by students were the highlights of the exhibition. Sanskar Bharati rangoli done by KG wing teachers added the traditional beauty to the event.

Splash -2018 created a splash of vibrant colours mirroring the rich art and craft being taught in school. The whole venue resembled a mini Chitra Kala Parishad. The day promised to pass on the legacy of Art and Craft from generation to the another.

The exhibition was well appreciated by parents. As the displayed art and craft works were done during the regular classes and not done specifically for the exhibition. Thus parents could realize the importance given to the creative expression at NPS, Kengeri.

Where art and craft is not only a light time pass subject but a means to relax think creatively express freely and enjoy creating master pieces. Art acts as stress buster between the hectic academic core subject classes and students get refreshed and rejuvenated. Splash-2018 was a humble attempt to encourage our students to be more creative, self-expressive and realize the value of Art in their daily life.

In conclusion, Splash was very organised event with equal prominence given to creativity and skill sets of all grades [age groups] from pre-school to high school students.
